Publication suspended June 18, 1715-Dec. 31, 1716.
Founded and edited by J. Theobald.
"On 11 April 1715 he [Lewis Theobald] began in 'Misc's Journal' 'The Censor,' a series of short essays on the model of the 'Spectator,' which appeared three times a week, ceasing with the thirtieth number on 17 June. Eighteen months afterwards they were resumed (1 Jan. 1717) as an independent publication running on to ninety-six numbers. When they were discontinued later in the same year, they were collected and published in three diodection volumes." Cf. Dictionary of national biography, v. 56.

The appeal to the public answered in behalf of the non-Episcopal churches in America; containing remarks on what Dr. Thomas Braddley Chandler has advanced on the four following points: the original and nature of the Episcopal office; reasons for sending bishops to America; the plan on which it is proposed to send them; and the objections against sending them obediently and refused. Wherein the reasons for an American Episcopate are shown to be insufficient and the objections against it in full force. Boston, Printed by Kneeland and Adams for T. Leverett, 1768.
